m 31 Nov 1717 London St Benet Paul's Wharf: Elizabeth Mountfort dau and heir of Edward Mountfort of Bescot in Walsall, Staffs Esquire 1613-1672; m1 a1684 Thomas Harris gentleman

Adm (Lichfield) 1 May 1740 Mary Stubbs otherwise Slaney wife of Matthew Stubbs ... [she] alleged that Jones Slaney of Walsall died many years ago intestate and letters of administration were given to his widow Elizabeth ... she died before she fully administered ... [Mary was sister of Jonas] [Matthew Stubbs of Walsall gentleman] he estate then passed into the hands of trustees, the survivor of whom gave possession c. 1681 to Thomas Harris, guardian of Edward Mountfort's daughter Elizabeth. By 1684 Elizabeth had brought Bescot in marriage to Harris's son Thomas. (fn. 100) After his death she married Jonas Slaney. (fn. 101) He had died by 1727, and in 1728 Elizabeth settled the manor on Jonas Slaney the younger of Dawley (Salop.), reserving £2,000 and a rent-charge to Dorothy, wife of Nicholas Parker of Bloxwich. On Elizabeth's death Dorothy entered the estate, but in 1739 the property was secured to Slaney. (fn. 102) He died in 1762 or early in 1763 leaving as heir his son Jonas, who lived at Bescot at some time before 1768 but by then had moved to Bristol. He had returned to Bescot by 1772 and was vicar of Rushall by 1778. (fn. 103) As a result of financial difficulties he conveyed the estate in 1781 to trustees, after settling 105 a. on his wife Mary. In 1791 they sold the hall and 80 a. to Richard Wilkes, who had been living at the hall since 1788. (fn. 104) Mary Slaney still held her share of the estate in 1796, but by 1825 it had passed to William Spurrier, who still owned it in 1843. It was then a compact farm east of Wednesbury Road.
